

TITLE:

Profile of contributors(alphabetical order)

AUTHOR(S):

CITATION:

Profile of contributors(alphabetical order). Lifelong education and libraries 2002, 2

ISSUE DATE:

2002-03

URL:

<http://hdl.handle.net/2433/43626>

RIGHT:

Profile of the contributors (alphabetical order)

WU JIANZHONG is director of Shanghai Library. He has many published works both in Chinese, English and Japanese. His main interests are in the theories of public libraries in the social and international settings.

YOSHITAKA KAWASAKI is professor of library and information science, Graduate School of Education, Kyoto University. He has published many works on American library history and intellectual freedom in libraries.

SAMGEUN KWAK is an associate professor at The Department of Education, Ewha Womans University, Korea. She earned M.A. in Education at Ewha Womans University, and Ph.D. in Education at Michigan State University, USA. She has published many works on women and lifelong education.

KAYOKO MURAKAMI, former assistant staff of Graduate School of Education, Kyoto University, is a graduate of the School of Library and Information Studies, University of Wisconsin-Madison. Her main interests are in the practices of information services.

CHIZUKO NAGAOKA is a graduate student, in Faculty of Human Sciences, Osaka University. Her main interests are non-formal education, Nepalese caste society, undevelopment, and development assistance.

MANFRED RINGHOFER is professor for Comparative Social Studies at Osaka Sangyo University, Faculty of Human Environment. His researches are about Korean minority in Japan, education of immigrant children in Germany and Australia, Bhutanese refugees and so on.

HIROKI TAKAKUWA is a graduate student of library and information science, Graduate School of Education, Kyoto University. He is now engaged in studies of various aspects of public libraries in the digital environment.

JÁNOS SZ. TÓTH is managing president of Hungarian Folk High School Society (HFHSS), vice president of European Association for Education of Adults (EAEA), member of Executive Committee of International Council for Adult Education (ICAE), and so on. He has written many books and articles on adult education and Hungarian Folk Schools.

ALAN TUCKETT has been director of NIACE (National Institute of Adult Continuing Education-the leading non-governmental organization for adult learning in UK) since 1998, special professor of continuing education at the University of Nottingham, President of the Pre-School Learning Alliance, and the influential member of international organizations.

PETER VODSEK is professor der Fachhochschule Stuttgart, and Gründungsprorektor der Hochschule der Medien. He has published many works on German library history.

ANDREW WERTHEIMER is a graduate student, School of Library and Information Studies, University of Wisconsin-Madison. His main interests are in the American library history.

MAKOTO YAMAGUCHI was professor at Ryutsu Keizai University. She was chairperson of Board of Education, Saitama Prefectural Government and also vice-chairperson of International Council for Adult Education (ICAE).